DAVIS THEATRE.

Three Great Acts and The Million Dollar Mystery Today.

One of the finest vaudeville show ever seen at this popular theatre is on the loads today, headed by the Reed St. John trio, three clever musical artists who have a beautiful artistic act of the colonial days. Costumes and settings are in keeping with that period. They piay several selections on violin, piano, French horns and cornets, and do some very fine singing numbers that have been a big hit during their engagement. Another act in the headline class is The Bells, a team of the finest dancers seen here in some time. They do dances of different nationalities and the famous Apache dance. Volda completes the vaudeville with a character singing specialty introducing some excellent Italian songs and a difficult Russian dance. The three acts make up a very good combination and provide excellent entertainment for the patrons; the photoplay feature today is cal artists who have a beautiful artisexcellent entertainment for the patrons: the photoplay feature today is the 13th episode of the Million Dollar Mystery, called The Secret Agent from Russia. In this two reel instalment Irving Cummings will be seen for the first time in this great serial. $10,000 in cash will be paid for the best 100 word solution of this great mystery. Everyone has a chance to win this big prize. Watch the picture every week and see if you can solve the mystery. prize. Watch the picture every week and see if you can solve the mystery. The Mutual War Weekly shows the latest pictures from the seat of war and The New Janitor is the Keystone comedy with Charlie Chaplin, the funniest of all screen comedians. Bargain matinee every day, 5 and 10 cents; evenings at 7 and 8.45, 10 and 15 cents; reserved seats 20 cents. Don't miss this show. Another big quality show is booked for the last half, headed by the three greatest acrobats in vaudeville.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

The Whiteside Strauss Co., which has been playing to capacity business here nightly and which has been said by everybody to be far better this year than ever before, will present this afternoon and evening the much talked of society play The Sins of Society. The scenic and electrical effects in this play outclass all the others of the Whiteside-Strauss repertoire and the costumes worn by the feminine characters in the play are all new and exquisitely beautiful. The Sins of Soduisitely beautiful. The Sins of Society had a long run in London and Paris last season and did record business. The entire production will be exceptionally well produced and handled by this clever company, which comprises the best players Mr. Strauss has had with him for a long time.

This superb western story is one of the best things on today's program, telling of Bart Wendell and his trip to telling of Bart Wendell and his trip to the east for a vacation. While east, he meets an adventuress, but not knowing her true character, falls in love with her, she promising to marry him. Later when she has separated him from much of his money, she tries to cancel her promise, but his sturdy character and manner forbid this, and he forces her to keep it. He fairly carries her to his western home, where after selges of sickness she sees the love in his makeup, and recognizing his worth, immediately falls in love with kim. Maurice Costello appears today in a strong drama entitled The Mysterious Lodger, in which he adopts a disguise to prevent being he adopts a disguise to prevent being arrested for the inexplicable death of his wife. Other films today are Top-sy-Turvey Sweedle, and What Became of Jane Coming soon is the season's big dramatic offering, The Master Mind, featuring Edmund Breese.

BABY IN RASH OVER HEAD AND BODY

Took Out All His Hair, Itched and Burned So Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Eruption Healed.

Sherman, Maine .- "When my baby boy was about three weeks old he broke out with a rash all over his head and body which took out all his hair and itched and burned so bad he could not sleep. It came in the form of water blisters and when he would scratch them they would make wet erup-tions which continued to grow worse until they were all over his head and body. His clothes would chafe them so that I would have to keep him bandaged.

"I tried many different kinds of soap and "I tried many different kinds of soap and remedies but it continued to grow worse until I obtained a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ofntment. I washed him with the Cuticura Soap and then I applied the Cuticura Ointment. I could see that it helped him from the very first. The sore places had taken his hair all out but by the time I had used the Cuticura Scap and Ointment three weeks the cruptions were all healed and his skin is as clear and smooth as ever. He now has a fine head of hair and there has never been any sign of the trouble since." (Signed) Mrs. John Collins, Feb. 19, 1914.

POETRY

TO LABOR

Shall you complain who feed the world? Who clothe the world?
Who house the world?
Who house the world?
Shall you complain who are the world,
Of what the world may do
As from this hour
You use your power,
The world must follow you.

The world's life hangs on your right hand.
Your strong right hand.
Your skilled right hand:
You hold the whole thing in your hand,
See to it what you do!
Or dark or light,
Or wrong or right,

Or wrong or right, The world is made by you!

Then rise as you ne'er rose before,
Nor hoped before,
Nor dared before,
And show as ne'er was shown before,
The power that lies in you!
Stand all as one
Till right is done!
Believe and dare and do!

Right many a nipperkin!

But ranged as infantry,
And staring face to face,
I shot at him, as he at me,
And killed him in his place

I shot him dead because—
Because he was my foe,
Just so; my foe of course he wa
That's clear enough, although

He thought he'd 'list, perhaps, Off-hand like—just as I Was out of work—had sold his traps— No other reason why.

Yes; quaint and curious war ist
You shoot a fellow down
You'd treat if met where any bar is,
Or help to half a crown.

—Thomas Hardy.
